Ans to Q No 3: Destruction of forests, vegetation and grassland for agricultural land, soil erosion, floods, draught, air, water and soil pollution.

Ans to Q No 4: Growth of population is more in developing and underdeveloped countries. Growth of population is more rapid in such countries. Due to rapid increase of population the development of these developing countries is less than desired.

Ans to Q No 5: Fertility of women, preference for sons,low status of women, employment of children, widening gap between birth and death rate, unfavourable attitude towards family planning, migration etc.

Ans to Q No 6: High gap in teacher- pupil ratio, inadequate teaching staff, inadequate supervising staff, low budget for education, lack of equipments, lowering standard of education, problem of discipline etc.

Ans to Q No 7: Urbanisation: It means migration from rural to urban areas has caused sewage waste, lack of housing facilities, development of slums and many other social evils.

Unemployment: Unemployment means absence of work for the able bodied persons who are willing to work. Unemployment is increasing significantly due to population explosion in our country.

Overcrowding: At present growth rate population of one Australia is being added to India's population every year. The excessive concentration of people in urban areas give rise to many social evils like development of slums, exposure of children to deviant behaviour, insufficient supply of goods and services etc.

Ans to Q No 8: Food, shelter and clothing.

Ans to Q No 9: Low per capita income, low standard of living, lack of proper medical facilities, lack of shelter,clothing etc.